THEY TOOK A RIDE

One Last Night and Another to Court This Morning.

Scenes Before the Judges-Prisoners of All Sorts in the Varie-Three men were seated in a "night-line" arriage about 1 o'clock this morning, and the vehicle was moving along the 7th street road or Brightwood avenue, in the direction of the District line. Some of the men were indulging in profanity, and the noise made by them was calculated to arouse the sound sleepers who were entitled to protection from men on an all night lark.

Policeman Evans and his partner were at the patrol box getting ready to turn in at the time of the occurrence. They listened attentively, and, thinking there was about to be a fight, they made a start in the direction of the vehicle, and soon discovered that strong arink had put the men in bad humor, and they were swearing at each other.

"You are all under arrest," said one of the officers, when the carriage was reached. "Drive to the station," he ordered the

When they appeared in the lead in Judge Taylor's procession this morning the officer told his story of the midnight ride, and said that the men wate drunk that the men were drunk.

"I wasn't drunk," said one of the young men. "All the police in South Washington know me, and none of them ever saw me take a drink." Judge Taylor made no comments about the ride, but fined them $5 or fifteen days

A colored boy, whose name appeared on the records as John Varbraken, was arrested last night for nothing, so he thought. John wanted to go to camp meeting, and he thought anywhere a tent was pitched would satisfy him. He didn't go to the flying horses, because he could not stand the expense, and so he went to the temperance tent. Had he gone in quietly and behaved himself he would have slept at home last sight, but, as he got in trouble, he spent the night on an iron bench in a police station. When the trouble happened John had a large knife in his pocket, and this was more serious than the disorder.

Persons who conduct these meetings are entitled to better behavior, and Judge Taylor made the penalty twice the usual amount, $10 or thirty days on the farm.

The gayly-decorated houses about the city made John Healy feel like celebrating. John is an old citizen, and it was out of the usual order for a few drinks to take him off his feet. This all happened in Georgetown, and the negro, who has been in trouble before, will live in the land of watermelons on the branch for three months, but he will not get any of the melons.

"I got arrested," said Mary Coffin, an old colored woman from Cow alley, "and I'll have to explain the case."

A policeman told the judge of the trouble and noise in the alley, and then Mary's time for making a statement was at hand. "We had trouble in de house, dat's shure," she said, "and when she said I was er d—d lie, I told her she was another."

"Who called you such a name?"

"I dunno, jedge, but she says she's my daughter-in-law, dat's ail I know."

Albaugh's.-Manager Allen will oren Albaugh's on Monday night for a preliminary season of one week. He does this, of course because of the large gathering that is expected here in connection with the Pythian encampment, and in view of that fact he will present an entertainment of high-class vaudeville performers. The chief attraction will be Alcide Capitaine, who has been styled "the perfect woman," and who is a gymnast of remarkable power. To a face and figure of great beauty she adds grace of movement sad a strength which has induced some to call her the fer ale Sandow. Wood & Shepherd, the well-known team who have become quite popular here, will also be introduced at this performance, as well as Baggesen, the human corkscrew; Ford & Francis, dancers of exceptional merit; Sapphira, Carl Newton and the Columbia Quintet Club. The performance will conclude with the original living pictures which will introduce some of the most beautifully formed women ever seen upon this stage.

Convention Hall.-Two concerts are now convention Hall.—Two concerts are now set for Convention Hall, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, by the United States Marine Band. While Washingtonians have abundant opportunity to hear this band, they are never tired of singing its praises and are always anxious to hear its concert work. The visiting Pytheres will have an average to the property of the present the three concerts. ians will have an opportunity in these con-certs of hearing this celebrated band at its best, and will no doubt crowd even Conven-tion Hall. The band will be assisted by Liberati, the celebrated cornetist, who is, perhaps, the greatest performer on that instrument now living.

New National Theater.—The fall season at the New National Theater will formally open on Monday night, with Mr. Robert Downing, the well-known tragedian, as the Downing, the well-known tragedian, as the attraction. Mr. Downing will present during the week "Virginius," "The Gladiator," "Damon and Pythias," "Ingomar" and "Richard the Lion Hearted."

The Battle of Gettysburg.—The panorama of the battle of Gettysburg will be opened for the inspection of visitors tomorrow and will continue on exhibition every day thereafter. There have been a good many imparts.

will continue on exhibition every day thereafter. There have been a good many improvements made in this panorama, the foreground having been retouched, so that it is now even more realistic than ever. It will be opened daily from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the building on 15th street, south of Pennsylvania avenue.

Kernan's Lyceum Theater.—The Big Four Specialty Company will be the attraction at the Lyceum next week. This organization is composed only of high-class vaudeville artists, especially selected by Manager Kernan for their eminent positions in their respective lines. Each of the ten big acts is composed of comedy and novelty. A stronger aggregation of stellar stars comprising one company, would be hard to prising one company, would be hard to imagine. Smith, Martin, Haley and Sparks, The Big Four, head the list, followed by the National Trio, Frank Bryan, Neille Forrester and Gilbert Moulton, authors and originators; Falke and Semons in a comedynusical act introducing many united. musical act, introducing many unique and original musical instruments; Johnson, Riano and Bentley in their own conception, "The Monkeys and the Farmer;" Masaud and Marba, the acrobatic wonders; Senator and Marba, the acrobatic wonders; Senator Frank Moran, who will deliver a few pertinent remarks on the tariff and principal topics of the day; the Fonte-Boni Brothers, Italian ductists; Whitman and Davis, the travesty stars, in their laughable farce, "Blue Jeans;" Miss Kitty Nelson, champion buck and wing dancer; concluding with the Eig Four's funny afterpiece, entitled, "A Horrible Night." During the above engagement there will be matinees every day. Miss Clara Beckwith, the charming water nymph, will continue her exhibitions in the nymph, will continue her exhibitions in th summer garden.

The Passing Show.—On Monday, Septem-The Passing Show.—On Monday, September 3, at Albaugh's, Carary and Lederer's production of "The Passing Show" will begin a week's engagement. It will come directly from the New York Casino, where it has been running for several months in a most successful way. The play is termed a "topical extravaganza," and is a strong admixture of comedium. a "topical extravaganza," and is a strong admixture of comedy, farce, opera and bur-lesque. The presentation here will be made with the same cast and all the magnificent and dazzling costumes, scenery and other accessories. The style and general construc-tion of this entertainment is an innovation in the amusement line, and should prove an excellent vehicle for the delectation of Washington audiences. The company is composed of over 100 people, and includes ul Arthur, Jefferson De Angelis, John E Henshaw, Charles J. Ross, Seymour Hess, George A. Schiller, William Cameron, Lucy Daly, Jessie Carlisle, Mabel Stephenson, Grace Filkins and Sydney Worth.

Butler's Bijou Theater.—"Darkest Russia" comes to Butler's New Bijou Theater next Monday night, August 27, for a week's engagement. The play is a most attractive and interesting one, and has met with deserved success on its tour. It is free from all lurid and melodramatic effects and never offends by gruesome or harrowing scenes. Every characteristic of the land is handling of the various types of charac-ters. The police, nihilists, peasants and ex-iles are intermingled with pleasing inven-tion, and the whole is brightened by cheerful, mirth-provoking comedy, which ever holds the audience in a happy humor. The groupings, pictures and tableaux are realistic and vividly illustrate the Russia of today. Reserved seats, 25, 50 and 75 cents. Matinees, Tuesday, Thursday and Satur-

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW.

Over Two Thousand Delegates Expected at the Coming Convention. Reports so far received indicate that there will be upward of 2,000 delegates to attend the ninth convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, to be held here from October 11 to 14. A meeting of the executive committee on arrangements was held last night at the Ebbitt House, and excellent progress was noted. For the reception committee Mr. W. D. Cabell announced that the badges for the members of the committee, to be worn at the depots, have been ordered. About a hundred messengers have been selected from among the younger members of the various chapters to assist the reception committee. Mr. P. B. Pierce said that the eastern trunk lines have promised satisfactory rates, and he heped to get the same rates from the western and southern roads. It was voted that Com-missioner Truesdell, who is a member of the order, should be invited to deliver an ddress of welcome to the delegates. The address of welcome to the delegates. The President will be besought to hold an informal reception at the White House.

The program of the convention includes a large mass meeting for men on Sunday afternoon, October 14. Chief Justice Fuller will preside, and addresses will be delivered by Bishop Dudley of Kentucky and Bishop Doune of Albany. The subjects chosen by the general council are "Why We Obey Bishops," "Why We Read Prayer Books" and "Why We Build Cathedrals." At last night's meeting it developed that these topics are not regarded with favor, the criticism being that they are not calculated to draw a crowd of men. An effort will be made to induce the general council to change the program, though this is not thought to be probable. The next meeting of the executive committee will be held on Friday night, next week, at the Ebbitt.

A Presentation.

Last night was a festive one with Arlington Mounted Division, No. 9, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias. Capt. George J. Bessler of the troop was presented with a costly knight's jewel by his command. The ceremony was accomplished with knightly eclat and spectacular pomp. The speech of presentation was made by Maj. Gen. James A. Carnahan, commander-inchief of the Uniform Rank, and a happy response, couched in choice words, was made by Capt. Bessler. At 7:30 o'clock the division assembled at Hoffman's garden, and after the usual preliminary skirmishing and headed by a section of the Mount Pleasant drum and bugle corps, marched to the home of Capt. Bessler at 543 7th street southeast. The officers of the division in line were as follows: Lieutenants, F. W. Helbig and E. K. Plant; sir knight guard, C. W. Birdsell; sir knight sentinel, Charles sir knight recorder, Benjamin Mundell. Forty men were in rank. The command was royally welcomed by Capt. Bessler, to whom the affair is said to have been a surprise. Gen. Carnahan, with several members of his staff, was on hand. The jewel was brought forth and turned over. After this a banquet was served, songs sung and speeches made. The house was beautifully embellished with potted palms and ferns.

THE STAR'S TROPHY.

A Beautiful Stand of Colors for the Finest Pythian Regiment. One of the regiments of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will carry home with it from Washington as handsome a stand of colors as flag makers can make. This is the stand of colors presented by The Evening Star to be awarded on the judgment of competent military officers to the regiment corspicuous for excellence in the parade and review. The conditions of the offer were recently set forth in a general order issued by Maj. Gen. Carnahan to the Uniform Rank in the following lan-"The following information is given to regimental commanders. The proprietors of The Evening Star, one of the leading newspapers of Washington, will present, as a rophy and souvenir of the encampment, to the regiment naking the most creditable showing in numbers and soliderly appearance on the grand parade and in the field inspection and review, a stand of colors, consisting of a regulation limited States flag made of silk and handsmedy mounted, and a pair of U. R. K. P. stilk guidons. This trophy will be as handsome as can be obtained, say the proprietors of The Evening Star, and the award will be made by three military officers. This will be no prize to be voted for, but an award for merit. What regiment will carry home this trophy?"

lation United States fiag and a pair of regimental guidons, were mained on exhibition today in the window of Galt Bros.' jewelry establishment on Pennsylvania avenue. The fiag, made by M. G. Copeland & Co., of Washington, is of the finest banner slik, fringed with gold buildon and beautifully mounted on an ebonized staff, tipped with a golden eagle. The guidons are of red slik with gold fringe, and will be finished after the award is made, by having embroidered upon them the name of the successful regiment and the lily of the order. The presentation will be made after the competitive drills at the same time the prizes won in the drills are presented. The Evening Star offered this handsome trophy in order to stimulate an interest among members of the order in the parade and review.

August 27-CLEVELAND'S MINSTRELS. Refined Variety

Is the best term we can find to describe the entertainment we offer you—not the "refined variety" which the randeville theaters boast—no cheap scenery, no questionable surroundings, no stifling auditorium—but refinement, elegance, mirth and music enough to keep you happy all the week. You can bring your family here without fear—there's music of every kind, wit of the brightest, songs the latest and best, new selections daily—all worth hearing and some of them you'll want to hear more than once. Come when you like, we're ready for you day and night. Bring "the boy" down and let him hear some of the latest songs!
